

I am a truck driver and i depend very much on the weather and traffic channels on my satellite radio. It has kept me up to date on weather and traffic conditions on more than one occasion. I am expected to have the product i'm hauling to the store or warehouse locations on time and the instant traffic has hepled me alter my route because of traffic accidents and road closures due to weather conditions. It has also helped me make decisions of safety because of approaching weather conditions. I'm sure other drivers in the trucking industry feel the same way. Please don't take away sometimes the only resourse of safety i have on the road. My safety to deliver your product and to return home to my family often depends on the traffic and weather channels.

Sincerely,
Jerry Page
